EXPECT TO EXTEND THE TIME ON VOTING

Majority of Votes Cast Are in Favor of Honor Constitution.

FACULTY IS DISAPPOINTED

Believe Slow Balloting Is Due to Lack of Interest by Students.

Only about eight hundred students of the Department of Arts and Sciences cast their votes for or against the Honor Constitution during the past week's voting. Although the votes cast were overwhelmingly in favor of the proposed system, it failed to be put through because every vote not cast registered "No."

The final vote on Saturday night was 679 to 150 in favor of the proposed step. The preponderance of sentiment in favor of the movement may be in judged by this count, but the indifference of the great majority defeated it.

In Dean Wilbur's opinion, the students do not really care to adopt the constitution. "I believe," he says, "that those who do not vote do not want the honor system. I am very much disappointed at the indifference shown by the student body. I should, however, be glad to have the voting time extended, that we may be sure of the opinion of the majority."

It is believed that the time will be extended to allow all the students another chance to register their votes. Professor Croissant, of the Committee on the Honor Constitution, says: "I am strongly in favor of the Honor Constitution, and I hope there will be found a way to continue the voting. Every student should be interested enough to vote either for or against this system, for they are vitally concerned with it. There will, of course, be no Honor Constitution without the approval of the students."

There has been much discussion of an alternative if the honor system is finally defeated. The general opinion seems to be that there will be instituted in the Department of Arts and Sciences, an efficient proctor system to prevent the possibility of dishonesty.

Dean Wilbur, however, believes that agreements will have to be made between each class and its professor, similar in effect to the Honor Constitution. "My rhetoric classes are run on that basis, and I believe that similar arrangements can be made in every class."

VARSITY RIFLE TEAM TAKES SECOND PLACE

In a recent intercollegiate rifle match held under the auspices of the National Rifle Association, in which the following schools were entered: Pennsylvania, George Washington, Penn State, Norwich, California, Princeton, Yale, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, and Georgetown, G. W. won the second place. Pennsylvania was first with a score of 4,681 and G. W. next with a score of 4,644. The others placed as they are listed with the exception of Georgetown, who withdrew and Pitt failed to show up.

The individual title was won by Walter Stokes after a hotly contested match with P. L. Ralph of Yale. A cup will be awarded to Stokes as the prize for the best individual score.

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS PRESENTED SAT., APRIL 28

In spite of a driving storm which kept most people at home last Saturday night, the G. W. Players gave their annual presentation in the chapel of Lisner Hall. Three one-act plays constituted the program.

"Where but in America," by Oscar Wolff, was played by Sarah Fry, Kermit Girdner, and Louise Bennerman. The other plays, "Moonshine," by Arthur Hopkins, acted by Meador Wright and J. Hartman; and "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Glaspell, with Beatrice Henning, Louise Espey, and Louis Seibold in the cast.

Altogether it was a very high grade amateur performance in spite of obstacles in the way of poor scenery and lack of financial support. As the greater part of the scenery consisted entirely of screens and draperies, the emphasis was on the acting exhibited, and consequently the demand on the actors was even greater than in the usual production.

G. W. RELAY TEAM BEATEN BY SMALL MARGIN

The G. W. Relay Team, composed of Peake, Graeff, Grass, and Tolson, took second place in the college relay class in which it was entered in the Penn Relay Carnival, Saturday, being beaten out by Temple University by a few feet.

G. W. would have won handily but for the fact that Peake, who led off, was pocketed on the first turn by the runners of the other seven teams in the event, and was forced into fifth place at the start. He pulled up, however, and finished third in his relay. Graeff held this position, losing slightly. He handed the baton to Grass, who ran a splendid quarter, finished second, to hand the stick to Tolson. Tolson caught him on the first turn and they ran together to the second turn, when the former sprinted again to take the lead. Martin, however, was equal to the occasion and hit the tape a yard ahead. The Temple and G. W. runners were thirty yards ahead of the rest of the field.

All district schools represented at Penn Friday and Saturday fell short of expectations. Georgetown, Maryland, Galesburg, George Washington, as well as Western and Tech High Schools, all seemed to have the worst kind of luck.

Next Saturday, May 5, G. W. meets Gallaudet in a duel track meet at Kendall Green. This will undoubtedly be an excellent meet, as the squads seem to be about evenly matched, although Gallaudet has the edge in the dashes, which may result in giving her the long end of the point score. Coach Prober, however, is working his men as much as their limited time will permit and expects to win.

PHI MU OFFERS PRIZE

Phi Mu Fraternity offers a prize of $15 for a one act play of approved excellence, written by a student of the University. The award will be made by the English Department, and the G. W. Players will have the privilege of giving the first production of the prize play.

Plays may be submitted to Prof. Croissant in typewritten form before May 24. Everyone is urged to compete in this contest and try for the prize.

TENNIS TEAM HOLDS SUCCESSFUL TRIP

To Give Dance in Order to Raise Funds to Send Men to Richmond.

After defeating the Johns Hopkins racquetters at the Dumbarton Club courts on Friday, April 27th, in four straight singles and one of the two doubles, G. W.'s tennis team packed up and left Washington for a four match trip northward.

Leaving Tuesday, May 1st, the party consisting of Capt. Ballinger, Van Ende, Kellher, Klopsch, and Aten, played the University of Delaware at Newark and took every set of the match. The Hatchettes played some excellent tennis and the contest was witnessed by a large gallery.

Columbia sports one of the best tennis teams in the country, and when G. W. stacked up against stars like Anderson and Lang, they had little chance of victory. Columbia copped all of the singles and the two double matches. They had been primed for their impending matches with Princeton, Harvard, and Yale, and played in great form.

G. W. lost to Swarthmore after coping three out of the five single matches. The Garnet netmen staged a comeback and captured the last two singles and both of the doubles. Don Dudley, a Washington boy, played a great game for Swarthmore and set his opponent down to defeat.

In the last match of the trip, G. W. was defeated by Lehigh in one of the most closely contested games played on the Bethlehem court this season. The Hatchettes forced the conquerors of Pennsylvania all the way, but lost by the count of 4 to 3. Aten, of G. W., lost his match 4-6, and 10-12, in a great exhibition of tennis play.

CHARM SCHOOL AGAIN COMMENCEMENT WEEK

To Be Presented at the Masonic Temple June 4th and 5th.

"The Charm School" again!

The success of the Junior Play at its first presentation and the desire of that portion of the student body that had not seen it then to see it repeated has caused its directors to make negotiations to present the play again. And they have succeeded! On the nights of June 4th and 5th "The Charm School" will be given again at the Masonic Auditorium as one of the recognized features of Senior Week. The Senior Class will attend this second presentation in a body.

The first performance given as the Junior Play under the direction of William S. Becker and Leonard Hall, at the Masonic Auditorium, was proclaimed by all who saw it as the best ever presented by the student body of George Washington University.

As a further inducement these performances will come during Senior's Week, and if the attendance warrants further performances, arrangements will be made to give the play for the rest of the week.

The careful and untiring work of both the cast and the directors has lifted this play above the usual amateur standards and has made it the success it has become, according to one of the leading dramatic critics of the city. Dean Wilbur some time ago expressed his appreciation of the play and complimented the cast and directors on their fine work.

Several changes have been made in the cast. G. W. Pryor, who formerly had the part of David McKenzie, a rising young lawyer, has now the role of Austin Bevans, "The Greek God," which was portrayed by William A. Hopkins at the first performance; Marion R. Malone has been shifted from the part of the twin, Jim to that of David; and Robert Howard has been cast as Jim. J. Foster Hagan is the jealous lover, George Boyd. Miss Dorothy Bartley has the part of Elise, and Miss Bess Bartley that of Sally. Some of the other members of the cast are: Raymond Weber, Marian Barker, Lonnelle Davison, Alpha Booth, Kenneth Bruhner, and Sara French Smith.

Added features have been promised by the directors of the play. Seats will be reserved, all seats being sold at the price of $1.00.

PI PHI HOLDS BANQUET; FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

Pi Phi Alumni, members, and pledges held their annual Founders' Day Banquet last Saturday night at the Grace Dodge Hotel. About one hundred people were present, including Mrs. Wallace, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, and Genevieve Frizzel, who was an attraction on last week's bill at Keith's.

The occasion was the fifty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity, and some of the founders of the local chapter were present.

One of the features of the evening was the stunts which the alumni, active chapter, and the pledges offered for the entertainment of each other and their guests. Speeches were also made by a few of those present. One of the most entertaining was made by Miss Frizzel.

ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP LUNCHEON GIVEN MAY 5

Saturday afternoon, May 5, the annual scholarship luncheon was held at the Hamilton Hotel. Each sorority was represented by one of its freshmen and senior members with the highest average for the last semester. The following girls enjoyed the honor of attending the luncheon: Marguerite Daly, Jane Dorch, and Clara Killinger from Gamma Beta Pi; Betty Booth, Elizabeth Kendrick, and Ruth Williams from Pi Beta Phi; Harriet Burgess, Maxine Rolle, and Frances Walker from Sigma Kappa; Lydia Shepherd, Beatrice Henning, and Lyne Smith from Chi Omega; Alice Baldwin, and Helen Musson from Delta Zeta; Helen Mankey and Frances Wolfe from Phi Mu; Mary Ruthven, Helen Stoutmayer, and Ann Darton from Alpha Delta Pi; Mildred Murray from Phi Sigma; Cora Grimes and Ada Swigert from Gamma Delta Rho. The non-sorority girls present were Eleanor Dobson, Thelma Hunt, Ann Hof, Elizabeth Chickering, Margaret Bucksteiner, Mildred Hawkhurst, Catherine Omerake, and Dorothy Nichols.

Maxine Rolle acted as toastmaster, and toasts were given by the Freshmen. Gamma Beta Pi was presented with the scholarship cup. Dean Rose and Professor Croissant were the guests of honor.

HISTORY ESSAY CONTEST— THREE PRIZES OFFERED

History students! Here's your chance to "grab down" a prize. It's easy! All you have to do is write an essay on Colonial History, or if you are an honored senior, take your choice of two other subjects. But you must have been an excellent student or Professor Swisher won't consider you as a preferred candidate. There will be others who'll try to win it from you, but go to it!

The Colonial Dames of America, Chapter 3, offer as a subject, "The Revolutionary Activities of the First Continental Congress." You can all try for that.

The Hubbard Memorial prize, for seniors, will be given for the best essay on "James K. Polk and the Mexican War."

The Thomas F. Walsh gold medal is the reward for the winning senior essay on "The Evolution of Sinn Fein."

Just be sure to send in your paper and record to Professor Swisher by May the 25th.

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM SETS RECORD IN MATCH

MATCH HOTLY CONTESTED

Girls Win Solely by Merits of Superior Marksmanship.

One of the most interesting rifle matches that the Co-eds of the University have ever participated in was with the Girls' Rifle team of Central High School. The match was shot in the Central Range, Thursday, April 26.

This was a record making match. It was a fifty-foot prone match and the score made by G. W. Girls was the best that has ever been made by a girls' rifle team in competition this year. The score was 496 to 492. Walter Stokes coached the G. W. team and Ralph Stokes the Centralites.

Coach Stokes says, "I am proud of the team and they deserve the honors that they have won for the school and themselves."

The squad was forced to shoot their best in order to defeat their opponents. The individual honors of the match go to Sophia Waldman, Eleanor Barroll and Katharine Edmonston of G. W. and Ann Delone of Central. Each girl registered a perfect score.

The following is the summary of the scores:

UNUSUAL AND ORIGINAL COSTUMES FEATURE BALL

Never has George Washington University seen a more brilliant and wonderful affair than the May Fete Carnival, that took place last Tuesday night, at the City Club. There was nothing to mar its success and everybody is agreed, that a gloriously good time "was had by all." It was the third Carnival that G. W. has put over of its kind, but the two previous ones did not have a show in comparison to the last one.

Earl Manson, chairman of the committee, requested that all come in costume and they most decidedly did. Everything was represented, it was very difficult to decide who would win the much coveted silver loving cups awarded for the prettiest and also most ludicrous costumes. A Colonial was voted as the winner in the first class and the second was a South Sea Island negro, which proved to be the great amusement of all. Every color in and out of the rainbow played its part to make the ball room look brighter and more vivid.

At the beginning of the dance Meyer Davis furnished the music, but at one o'clock when La Paradise struck up its noise the party was ready for anything. It grew better and better all the time, each number seemed to have more pep and snap than the one before.

About seven or eight hundred people attended. The more the merrier, but although the floor was quite crowded nobody complained of its being too crowded.

According to those in charge of the financial, the Carnival proved to be a wonderful success financially as well as socially.

The Record and a Vision

The school year is almost ended, and The Hatchet goes to press for the last time until it appears again next fall to greet a new batch of Freshmen.

Thus another year has passed in the long history of the University. The Hatchet has chronicled its successes, and though we say it sadly, its failures. What have these successes and failures been and what were their causes?

When the student body returned last September they were urged to sign the voluntary student activity tax pledge. The benefits to be derived from it were carefully explained to them. Two thousand signers was the goal. Those students interested in seeing the University progress in athletics, publications, and other activities that make student life more interesting and profitable, worked hard and did their utmost to reach this goal. When the campaign closed and the results examined it was found that only half the desired number had signed. Thus were student activities forced to begin the year under a great handicap—the handicap of insufficient funds.

The football season opened. During the season one major victory was recorded. We beat Catholic University by a 17 to 14 score. But we should have won more games. The team was hindered by lack of funds for equipment and training, and during the season they had to fight their battles knowing that they did not have student interest.

The basketball season followed and was equally unsuccessful. Attendance at local games was poor, and no team will fight and put forth its best efforts without their fellow students solidly back of them.

The rifle teams did their stuff and brought home some victories. The girls' team set some brilliant records, and the men's team kept their former high standard. But these teams succeeded on their own merits alone and not because they had enthusiastic student support.

A junior play was staged and was artistically a brilliant success. An excellent cast gave a superb performance, but their audience was too small to pay expenses, and only ten per cent of the people attending were students. This play will be given again as a recognized feature of Senior Week. Will they again play to a half empty house or will the students turn out in the numbers that the play merits?

Student Council elections were held to fill the vacancies caused by resignations, and representative students were elected. The council refused to vote gold footballs to the football men and ended the year by voting themselves gold keys and honorary varsity letters heretofore reserved for recognition of meritorious activity in athletics. Thus is the unselfishness of our students displayed.

Three great dances were staged under the direction of Earl Manson, and to his credit it may be said that each was a brilliant social affair, and the outstanding success of the year. The students supported them heartily. But is it possible that G. W. Students will support only those activities that permit of social enjoyment? It would seem so.

Will next year be a repetition of this and past years? Will student activities be compelled again to struggle under insurmountable difficulties of insufficient funds and total lack of student interest and support? The whole matter lies with the students. G. W. can be made to take its proper place in the student world if the student body wills it. The raising of sufficient funds rests upon student interest and support.

When the school year opens again we will again have opportunity to sign the student activity pledge. Let us all get behind it and put it over the top. Let us give the teams, the publications, and the other student organizations the support which they merit and which they must have. Let us give them the funds necessary to put G. W. on the activities map. Until we do, they can do nothing great and G. W. must hold a minor place in the University field. If these men have proper financial support they will bring home victories and student interest and support will follow.

The pledge is the key to the situation. Let us all sign and use it to open the door to success in student activities. Let us make G. W. the sort of University that students may be proud to enter. We can do it. The fate of activities is in our hands. Will we fail in our trust or will we give the University the support it needs? Time will tell. Don't be slackers!

Dean Wilbur's hobby is yachting. All the time he can spare from his duties he devotes to boats. Dean Wilbur received his A. B. from Brown University in 1888, A. M. in 1898, and his Litt. D. in 1916. He has been professor of English at G. W. since 1897, and Dean of G. college since 1904. He is the author of "English Rhetoric," used in his first year English course. Dean Wilbur is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities.

Marathon dances don't mean a thing to the University of Vermont. At the last meeting of the Student Union a motion was made to limit the dances at the school—not the length of them, but the number.

The Department of Public Speaking at Colgate announces that in response to many requests a course in public discussion will be offered this last semester. The course will be open to all upper classmen, and will involve a general discussion of many topics of current interest and importance.

Those interested in a pleasant affair for George Washington University, which could be looked forward to every year with a great deal of anticipation and pleasure, may carry out the policy of the University of Mississippi. Every April this university sets aside a day for mothers. Every mother will be invited to attend, and a round of receptions, plays, teas, and tours will be offered to entertain them. There will not be an idle moment for those mothers who can attend. Think this over, co-eds.

A pessimist is a fellow who, when told that he should cheer up, for things are not as bad as they look, replies: "No, but they seem so." He should enter a marathon dancing contest, and get it over with, once and for all.

The Burmese believe that the soul takes the form of a butterfly and leaves us while we sleep, and that the story of its roaming is the stuff of which dreams are made. Isn't that pretty? Say, boy, page Professor Moss!

Bob: "She asked me to kiss her on either cheek."

Dick: "Which one did you kiss her on?"

Bob: "I hesitated a long time between them."

He held her tight in his arms, and they were in the midst of one of those soul satisfying, passionate kisses, such as can be indulged in only after a long separation between lovers. Suddenly his arms dropped to his side, and he moved a step back from her. A look of pain filled his eyes, and he could not speak. Her questioning, disappointed look plainly showed that she was unable to comprehend his sudden change. He did not know how to explain it to her. Words failed him entirely. For once in his life he was stumped. How was he to tell her that he could not embrace her when she had been eating onions?—Bill Weevil.

NIGHT LETTER

Dear Stupid Stephen,
"The Hatchet"
George Washington University

Dear Sir:

Far be it from me to bother you with trivial matters of no great importance, but I crave to be enlightened upon several questions that have upset the equilibrium of a fatigued mind, which being prompted by a forty minute examination in political science. The questions in order of consideration are what is meant by the word Honor in the phrase "Honor System?"

Why does the Professor walk around the room and look over your shoulder? Is he inquisitive? Or does he think that you are holding a pony with one hand and writing with the other? A very novel trick.

Is the advocate of the honor system, who spends his time trying to find some student cheating, trying to crib off the other fellow, or is he conscientiously considering the examination in the time allotted?

Why do we sign the pledge at the end of the examination? Is this a pledge or oath or is it an eloquence of words? Was it not Old Man Bunk who said, "A man who will report on another man in an examination will sign his name to an examination in which he has cheated himself?"

That is the man, who is accidentally killed by a falling brick, or if in the service of the Navy is "lost at sea."

G. E. G.

If the young lady who signed herself Bella Donna will send a self-addressed envelope, I will gladly answer the questions she asked about Ralph Edmonds.

W. U. C. SONG BATTLE

Who will win the prize offered by the W. U. C. for the best song? Any kind is wanted whether an Alma Mater song, glee club, or team songs. There is almost no response thus far, but it is hoped that between now and May 12, when the contest closes, there will be many competitors. The University needs songs and ten dollars surely is an incentive. The only condition is that the writer be a student; words, with music written for them, words alone or with the music of some other song, are all very acceptable. These should be given to Anna Hof, 1831 Belmont Road, before May 12.

ENG. BASEBALL TEAM
DEFEAT ARMY-NAVY PREP.

George Washington University's Engineer baseball team scored a 11 to 2 victory over the Army and Navy Prep School nine in a game played on the Preps' diamond last Saturday.

The home team scored two runs in the first inning, held the Hatchettes scoreless during the other half, but G. W. got next to the offerings of the Prep pitcher and counted in every inning after the first and blanked the Army and Navy men for the rest of the game. Higgins pitched well for the Engineers.

Gallaudet's nine will be met by the Engineers on the Kendall Green diamond next Monday afternoon.

PHI ALPHA DELTA INITIATES

The John Jay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity held its regular initiation on May 3, at the Lafayette Hotel, at which the Honorable Huston Thompson was initiated as an honorary member of the Fraternity.

Mr. Thompson, who holds the honorary degree of LL. D. from George Washington University, is a graduate of Princeton University. He studied law at New York Law School, and began the practice of law in Denver, Colorado, in 1899. Mr. Thompson was formerly Assistant Attorney General of the United States and is now a member of the Federal Trade Commission. He has recently been prominently mentioned to fill the Senatorial vacancy caused by the death of Senator Nicholson, of Colorado.

Students of George Washington Law School initiated at the same meeting are: William Carleson, Arthur McGregor, B. H. Corbin, Robert A. Nixon, R. Murry Stewart, R. H. Transue and Fred A. Graves.

FORMER STUDENT HONORED

Miss Lois Meek, who took her A. B. in George Washington University, and who is now studying for her doctorate degree in Columbia University, New York City, has been awarded the Grace Dodge Fellowship for next year. This is the highest honor that can be conferred by the University on a student in the Teachers College.

KAPPA SIG TRIMS SIGMA CHI

Sunday, April 29, was a sad day for the Sigma Chi boys. Their old friends the Kappa Sig trimmed them good and proper. The Kappa Sig out-played their opponents in every department of the game. Three pitchers were used by Sigma Chi to furnish balls for the slugging Kappa Sigs to hit. The final count was 16 to 1.

LEGAL OFFICERS ELECTED

Woman's Legal Club of the Law School held its election of officers in the Alumni Room of the Law School, April the 30th. The following were elected: Dorothy Janis, President; Mrs. Janis, Vice-President; Helen Newman, Secretary; Irene Kushner, Treasurer; Elizabeth M. Bailey, Press Representative.

SENIOR RINGS DELIVERED

The Senior rings will be sent C. O. D. to each person directly from the Balfour Factory on or before the first of June.

HATCHET GIVES DANCE

The big farewell dance to be given by the Hatchet has been set for the evening of Saturday, May 12, at the Kappa Tau Omega house. On that night Daniel B. Lloyd, who is directing the plans, expects to get together a representative publication bunch to dance in honor of their new editor and manager. Robert H. McNeil is the future editor and the manager is soon to be appointed.

The dance is planned to be the climax of an unusually successful year, and will exceed in gaiety and sociability all the former entertainments of the journalists. The music will be snappy, and all the dancers may jazz to their hearts' content. The price of subscription is to be $1.50.

BASEBALL DANCE SUCCESS

The dance given by the Engineer baseball team last Saturday night was a big success from every standpoint. The music was furnished by Dan Look's Orchestra, and did very much to speed up the evening.

S. P. E. WINS SECOND GAME

 ability he will be selected by Coach Miller to represent the Hatchettes in these contests. In order to raise enough funds to pay the expenses of this trip, the team is to give a dance about a week before the exams. Details of the social function will be announced later. The tennis team asks the students to support this dance and

G. W. PLAYERS ELECT
 After a very successful second presentation of their recent performance of "Suppressed Desires," the G. W.
 Players held a business meeting and elected officers as follows: Louise Essey, president; Theresa Lawrence, director; "Billy" Case, secretary; Kermit Girdner, stage manager; Louis Stebold, treasurer and business manager; Edna Velle and Dorothy Lewis, members at large of the executive committee.
 Financially the season has been a great success for the Players. One hundred dollars has been cleared to go toward the financing of future plays. Their presentation of three one-act plays a short time ago was considered an unusually fine amateur attempt.
 In celebration of their success, the Players hired a hack after the second presentation and serenaded the frat houses.

SPORT NOTES
 Central High School riflemen won the high school championship of the United States in the prone rifle firing.
 The Modesto, Calif., high school was tied with Central for first place, but in the playoff the local school won out. It made the fourth time Central has won this title.
 Penn State's two-mile relay team set a record in that event of seven minutes forty-eight and four-fifths seconds, beating out Oxford University by thirty yards in the Penn Relay Games.
 Gallaudet's nine lost a slugfest game to Drexel Institute by the score of 18 to 17, in a game at Philadelphia last week. It took 10 innings to settle the fuss.

NOVEL EXHIBITION GIVEN
 Friday, May 4th, the girls' swimming team of G. W. held a very interesting exhibition in the Central High School pool. Beside the regular events of a meet of this kind there were some very novel stunts performed. All the lights were turned out and eight girls swam around the pool holding lighted candles in their hands.
 The crowning achievement was performed by Asenath Johnson. This fair swimmer swam 80 feet with her hands and feet tied.

SUMMER SESSION OPENS

 mer session for the seventh consecu-
